RESPONSIBILITIES:

As a Wellness Manager at Wellness Hideaways; I combined my flair for fitness, wellness and marketing by promoting, advertising and selling programs to various hotels and retreat centers within Mexico and Costa Rica. I was responsible for planning, administrating and marketing aspects of organizing retreats. Customizing corporate wellness programs on location for small to medium sized corporations, to sell additional wellness services.

In Costa Rica, as the Marketing Manager of a luxury hotel, I was responsible for the management and marketing aspects of promoting, advertising and branding the hotel to the public by coordinating efforts with various media, travel agencies and tour operators. Some of the skills valued within this position were the ability to adapt to changes rapidly in order to maintain customer satisfaction, providing excellent service to the guests, good communication skills and team work utilized with all hotel departments.

OTHER EXPERIENCE:

Prior to my career within the Wellness Industry, I had the opportunity to work within the financial industry for a number of years and many retail and service oriented businesses dealing with both inside and outside sales prospecting and calls.

INTERESTS:

Yoga, pilates, running, cycling, cooking, diving, writing & reading.
